

Because even today...

...a major political party's platform calls on pseudoscience to justify denying people abortionⁱ

...between one-fifth and one-fourth of college women will experience attempted or completed rapeⁱⁱ and for every 100 rapes, only 3 rapists will receive a prison sentenceⁱⁱⁱ

...women comprise only 16% of MIT's Engineering faculty, 19% of MIT's Science faculty^{iv}, 16.9% of the House of Representatives, and 17% of the Senate^v

Feminists@MIT is a group of self-described feminists, womanists, anti-sexists, and gender equality advocates at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. We are committed to social justice and ending oppression based on (but not limited to) gender.

ⁱ The GOP Platform, to be ratified at this week's Republican National Convention, contains the statement that "Numerous studies have shown that abortion endangers the health and well-being of women..." This directly contradicts the findings of the APA, which conducted an evaluation of such studies and found that "...the majority suffered from methodological problems, sometimes severely so."
